

Helping People. Saving Gorillas.

March 17, 2022

Dear Gorilla Nodes,

You cannot find a corner of the world today that has not been impacted by health, economic or environmental hardship. Yet, as we navigate through these global challenges, we find hope in the extraordinary generosity of people like you – people who want to see our mission of saving the world’s remaining gorillas succeed.

On behalf of our team members from Atlanta to Africa, THANK YOU for your gift of $10,095.98 received on March 17, 2022. We are so grateful for our incredible community of donors, whose steadfast support both sustains our important mission and is an investment in a healthier planet for all of us.

Please know your contribution means more today than ever before, as we strive to expand our programs to build the future of conservation. From protecting more forests in DR Congo to expanding our food security programs for vulnerable people living near the gorillas to providing scholarships for our staff in Africa—all of these activities are at the core of the Fossey Fund’s work and critical for conservation to succeed in the long term. And they are possible because of you.

We are pleased to welcome you as a member of our Digit Society, a distinguished group of donors whose substantial ongoing commitment to the Fossey Fund embodies the spirit of Dian Fossey’s favorite gorilla, her beloved Digit. Digit Society members ensure the survival of gorillas through their extraordinary generosity and remind us that one person’s actions can truly change the world.

Thank you again for being part of this work – we couldn’t do it without you!

With Gratitude,

Tara Stoinski, Ph.D.
President and CEO/Chief Scientific Officer

P.S. Please do not hesitate to reach out if I – or any member of my staff here at the Fossey Fund – can ever be of assistance. Thank you again for standing with endangered wildlife!
